Athletic Activities For 11 To 14 Yearolds To Receive Sponsorship

Under the sponsorship of the Athletic Council a group of specially appointed committeemen met to discuss the organization of an organization to sponsor athletic activities for the "Middle" group—ages 11 to 14.

The name—Baby Ram Council—was selected and a nominating committee composed of Eric Hartline, O'Neal Walker, LeBron Williams and J. A. Congleton was appointed to consider officers for the club.

It was definitely determined that a football team would come from the South Bay School and two from Belle Glade.

The Council will be made up of two representatives each from the Lions, Rotary, Elks, Legion, Jaycees, Legion of South Bay and Lions of South Bay, the Belle Glade Police Benevolent Association, and the four coaches plus Prof. Hobson and two from the Athletic Council.

An organizational meeting will be held next Wednesday night at the School Auditorium at 7:30.

Participants in the play will be presented tonight just previous to the game, and during the half-time the youngsters will pass among the crowd to secure memberships in the council at a minimum, with no maximum.

Some equipment is already on hand for the kids and they will be "all dressed up" tonight for you to see.

Unwin Wins Over Lutz In Runoff

With a record runoff vote of 771, Marvin Unwin won over Kenneth Lutz Tuesday by a margin of 443 to 328.

The machines registered 789 as voting, but somehow nine of the votes didn't register for either of the candidates.

Both candidates did a house-to-house canvass and talked with the voters about issues, rumors and potential activity as commissioners.

In the first election four of the candidates made the rounds and seemingly stirred up the interest of the voters.

The number voting in the two elections might indicate a method of stirring the voters interested more, for the largest number turned out than for any previous elections.

Commenting on the serious plight of Florida sugar growers as well as those of Louisiana and other mainland areas, due to present legislation that prevents their marketing thousands of tons of sugar and denies them even a small share in the interested market caused by steadily increasing national consumption, Holland assured his audience that the Florida delegation is fully cognizant of the situation and is doing its utmost to solve the problem.

He paid high tribute to Congressman Paul Rogers, who was also present at the meeting, for his tireless effort in behalf of local sugar producers as well as his splendid record as a freshable donor.

Morton Cooperates With Industry In Successfully Opening Carding And Spinning Ramie On Cotton Machinery

Twenty years experience, from the card room to the General Manager's office, in textiles paid off when Harley Morton, Fiber Specialist, and co-workers of a large eastern textile manufacturer came up with the all-ramie sliver being used by Mr. Morton. "The trial and error method paid off when I was privileged to work with experienced textile men in the laboratory of one of the largest textile mills of this country," Mr. Morton said. "The sliver shown here is highly acceptable commercially and marks another step in the program of domestic use of ramie as a blend and in all-ramie products." Fish nets, rope, fire hose and clothing textiles are shown along with ramie fibers, in all stages of processing, at the Everglades Experiment Station, where Mr. Morton is headquartered.

Harley G. Morton, Fiber Specialist representing the I. I. Board, told local Rotarians Friday that "gradually we're finding and eliminating the troubles the textile industry encounters in preparing ramie fiber for the looms, and feel that in the very near future domestic demands for Glades ramie will far exceed the production."

"We have found the answer to the carding of ramie fiber on standard machinery; opening of the fiber has been done in this country on standard machines adjusted for other long fibers and regular cotton spinning frames have turned out a highly acceptable sliver," he continued.

The following is a part of the talk given by Mr. Morton before the local Rotarians:

"The superior qualities of ramie fiber from many standard-

"There were some 3300 bills introduced, among which were 1200 local bills. There were 450 general bills passed. There was $410,000,000 appropriated, an increase of $80 million. Schools got $52,000,000 while medical and health received a majority of the balance of the increase."

"The matter of text books for the schools is a major item."

He said that the state teachers got a $200 increase in pay and our Junior College was taken care of.

Sanby Peterson's nephew Pete came back to college. He worked on Sandy's farm a couple of months last summer to get his money for football. He seemed to enjoy farm life all right—but like most city kids it took him some time to get used to a farmer's schedule. Sandy claims that when he went to visit Pete—on the morning—the boy looked up startled and asked what time it was. Sandy replied it was four-fifteen. "Gee," Pete murmured, "if we're going to do a day's work tomorrow you'd better get to bed!"

Student Council Staff

The staff of the 1955-56 Belle Glade High School Student Council has been chosen. The council includes the seventh and eighth graders of the Junior High School in the staff. Members this year are: Paula Parman, Margie Yates, Kay Young, Charles Schoenfeld, Sue Van Landingham, Leland Tutum, Charles Poole, Faye Herring, John Thompson, and Karin Allison.

The president of the council, John Thompson, was elected last year. Other officers stand as: Karin Allison, vice president; Sue Van Landingham, secretary; Charles Schoenfeld, treasurer; and Alice Faye Herring, chaplain.

Kay Young was appointed to keep the school calendar, which includes scheduling the assembly programs. Faye Herring and Karin Allison were appointed to keep the school social calendar. This prevents two organizations from planning social functions for the same night.

The Student Council is working on many other projects for the school, but some of them cannot be revealed.

He introduced the citizens in this area, including South Bay Harbor, etc. who make up the Athletic Council. These gentlemen help sponsor the team, and help furnish the equipment.

All introduced were the cheerleaders and the football players who in turn, introduced their parents.

The menu consisted of meat loaf, mashed potatoes, green beans, hot rolls, and butter, iced tea and ice cream.

The Sunday evening fellowship periods have been a highlight of the summer music program. Twenty-five to 40 young people gather each Sunday night after the evening worship service for a time of fun, fellowship and food. We are grateful for the college young people who have led out in this and a special thanks to Jim Bill Geer who is returning to Stetson this year. If you are a young person, whether young in age or spirit, join this group on Sunday evening.

Churches of Christ, Scientist

How righteous thoughts and actions lead to lasting health and happiness will be brought out in Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Reality."

Scriptural selections to be read include Paul's advice to the Philippians (4:8): "Finally, brethren, whatever things are true, whatever things are honest, whatever things are lovely, whatever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things." Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (381:4): "Hold thought steadfastly to the enduring, the good, and the true, and you will bring these into your experience proportionally to their occupancy of your thoughts."

The Golden Text is from Jeremiah (51:10): "The Lord hath brought forth our righteousness: come, and let us declare in Zion the work of the Lord our God."

TWO GUEST SPEAKERS
HEARD AT LDS CHURCH
Guest speakers at the Church of Jesus Christ's Latter Day Saints Sunday night were District Supervisor Reed E. Miller of Provo, Utah, and Elder William E. Hall Jr., of Compton,

Calif., both stationed in Miami. Supervisor Miller spoke on the subject, "Reversal of False Prophecies" and Elder Hall on "The General Principles of the Gospel."

The Woman's Relief Society will hold their next work and business meeting at the home of Mrs. Ruby Atkinson at Oceola Larch Camp on Monday, Sept. 26.

An announcement was made that there will be a Union Meeting in Fort Lauderdale on Sunday, Sept. 25 from three to 4:30 p.m.

Presbyterians Set Annual Rally Day

"The Secret of Victory" will be the sermon topic of Dr. J. Leighton Scott, Sunday morning at the Everglades Presbyterian Church. During the morning service Dr. Scott will also be installing officers at installation exercises for six deacons.

Tommy Parker, James Fraser and Carl Cone will be installed and Victor Riedel, Eugene Ellis and Eugene Beck will be installed. The annual Sunday School Rally Day will also be observed by having a special program, conducted by the various Sunday School classes and pupils will be given promotional certificates. A steady growth has been noted in the classes and new classes are being formed and began the first Sunday in October. In the Monday new classes will be a senior department, providing study group for ages 15 through 18. The emphasis for the October-December quarter will be on "How To Study the Bible." A cordial welcome is extended to all in the community.

Dr. Scott at the evening Bible Study will speak on "The Call to Nobler Citizenship" taken from Philippians, fourth chapter.

Community Methodist Has Large Attendance

The beautiful new sanctuary of the Community Methodist Church has been nearly filled at both the morning and evening services for the past several Sundays. At last Sunday's evening service, the Lyric Choir, composed of 42 juniors and intermediates under the direction of Mrs. K. C. Smith, Jr., rendered two selections with different members of the choir singing solos and duet parts. The pastor, Rev. H. Edward Garrett, announced that Church Loyalty month with outstanding guest speakers each Sunday evening.

In the Church School, next Sunday is Promotion Day. Bibles will be presented to those being promoted from the Primary Department into the Junior Department. The last fifteen minutes of the session will be used to acquaint the pupils with their new classrooms. Rally day will be observed in the Church School on Oct. 2. YOM KIPPUR

By Jonas Lehrer
We will observe the mighty holiness of this day, for it is one of awe and anxiety. There is Thy dominion exalted. On this day we conceive Thee established on Thy throne, as Judge and Witness, recording our secret thoughts and acts and setting the seal thereon. Thou recordest everything; yet, Thou rememberest the things forgotten. Thou unfoldest the records, and the deeds therein inscribed tell their own story for in the secret of every man's hand is set there.

The great Shofar is sounded and a still small voice is heard. The angels in heaven are dismayed and are seized with fear and trembling as they proclaim: "Behold the Day of Judgment!" The hosts of heaven are to be arraigned in judgment for in Thy eyes even they are not free from guilt. All who enter the world do so with a sword before them, on one side a flock of sheep. As a shepherd mends his sheep and cause them to pass beneath his staff, so dost Thou pass and record, count and visit, every deed as before Thee, on one side of every creature's life and decree is inscribed.

On New Year's Day, Sept. 17, the decree is inscribed on the Day of Atonement, Sept. 26, it is sealed, how many shall pass away and how many shall be born; who shall live and who shall die; who shall attain the measure of man's days and who shall not attain it; who shall perish by fire and who by water; who by sword, and who by beast; who by hunger and who by thirst; who by earthquake and who by plague; who by branding and who by stoning; who shall rest and who shall go wandering; who shall be tranquil and who shall be disturbed; who shall be at ease and who shall be afflicted; who shall be come poor and who shall wax rich; who shall be brought low and who shall be exalted.

Episcopal Youth Visit Okeechobee Church

Last Sunday night the following members of the Young People's Service League of St. John the Apostle Church attended Evensong at the Church of Our Saviour, Okeechobee: Dick and John Townsend, Marilyn Matthews, Eddie Lively, and their adult sponsor, Barrie Smith.

The service was in charge of Father Petrie who preached a sermon on Psalm 95 which marks the opening of Morning Prayer, in the Episcopal Book of Common Prayer. He told the congregation that although living in an earthly Paradise the people of Florida gripe and whine as much as the people who live in less favored places. Unless the beauty of Florida is reflected in our souls we will be in heaven outwardly, and in hell inwardly.

No Harm In Sunday Recreation That Is In Itself Innocent

The Duke of Edinburgh does not violate the law of the Sabbath in his Sunday polo said Father John Clarence Petrie last Sunday in his sermon at St. John the Apostle Church. He always attends divine service on Sunday which fulfills his obligation to worship and adore God.

There is no harm in Sunday recreation that is in itself innocent. This does not mean, as some have asserted, that if a man hears Mass on Sunday he is committing a mortal sin. There is not a church in Christendom teaching any such nonsense. The moral law is binding on man every day of the week. It is not a sin to steal on Sunday as well as Monday and no amount of church-going changes that bit.

The vicar explained in his

READ I THESSALONIANS 5:12-16

Men ought always to pray, and not to faint. (Luke 18:1). During the occupation of Seoul, Korea, in 1950, I hid myself between the ceiling and the roof of a neighboring house. Only three people knew where I was: the aged lady who was watching the house, my mother, and my wife. We did not tell even our children because they might leak the secret.

I was totally isolated from all those with whom I had been making daily contact. The most terrifying sound was to be someone walking outside the house. That could have meant something to me.

However, one vital communication line was left—the line between God and me. The increasing danger could not stop my prayer. Instead, my practice of prayer and the intensity of my prayer increased. I was sure that other Christians, captured or isolated wherever they were, knew that I was praying. I was sure that other Christians, captured or isolated wherever they were, knew that I was praying. I was sure that other Christians, captured or isolated wherever they were, knew that I was praying.

Prayer is the vital communication channel God always keeps open between ourselves and Himself.

MORTON COOPERATES
points—length, strength, absorbency and sheen—when properly processed, have been known for many centuries. In fact, it has long been known as the most outstanding of all plant fibers in many respects. Nevertheless its practical culture under modern conditions has been balked, or at least made economically impractical, until very recent times through the lack of mechanical means for recovery of the fine tissue embedded in the stem of the plant.

"Dr. Allison made the first planting at the Everglades Experiment Station in 1929 but it was not until 1943-44 when Newport Industries, Inc., became interested in this fiber on a commercial basis that the project really began to take form as a potential industry for this section."

"Until 1953 all the fiber stalks cut in three crops, about 30 tons per acre, was hauled to a central plant and run through the Krupp-Corona deodorator. However, the rapidly mounting interest of the small farmer caused an ever increasing amount of effort in the development of a satisfactory field harvester-ribbener."

"During the past three seasons the Cary Iron Works has placed improved models of a field machine in the fields and

Mr. Cary has spent the entire season of 1955 here with one of his machines to carry on a succession of tests and changes that have resulted in a steady improvement in the performance of his machine. So much for harvesting.

"What is the present acreage, and the possible increase for the season of 1955?"

"A brief survey of ramie production in Florida for the year 1954 seems to be the most logical basis for this estimate."

"The largest grower of ramie, Newport Industries, Inc., with 2000 acres produced 1,700,000 pounds of dry ribbons for 1954. Of this amount about 300,000 pounds were degummed in the companies plant at Clewiston, Fla., and sold for domestic consumption. The balance was sold for export to Japan, Switzerland, France and Germany. Other growers, including Arlington Ranch 160 acres; Alec Ramey 360 acres; Shawano Development Corporation 1000 acres and the Kruse Brothers 200 all will produce marketable fiber as well as not stock for acreage expansion in the Belle Glade area. However, by the end of 1955 there should be a total of 4000 acres or more producing ramie fiber. This, it might be noted, is substantially more than is said to be grown in all Japan where there are several large processing mills of this fiber alone. Such a limited acreage in that country is, of course, the result of competition with food crops under such highly populated conditions. Naturally this causes that country to seek a major portion of its raw fiber requirements from other resources—such as Florida.

"Eight hundred bales weighing 500 pounds each, were shipped, during August 1955, from the Newport Plantation at Central Point through the Port of Palm Beach to Antwerp, Belgium."

"Prior to World War II ramie, or 'China Grass' as it is known in world markets was grown in China, Thailand and the Philippines and eventually they will increase their production to be sold in the world markets which may reduce the demand from U.S.A. Therefore, I was employed by the Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund to conduct the American textile mills throughout the country as well as many Government agencies having use for these fibers or products made from them whether in whole or in blends, to discuss fabrication problems and advise as to the availability of these fibers."

"During the period since February 1, 1955, I have traveled over 20,000 miles and made calls on over 120 textile mills also several textile schools such as Alabama Polytechnic, Georgia Tech, Clemson College, and the University of North Carolina."

"Many of the large textile mills have excellent Research Divisions. In my work with these groups a great deal of new information on the processing of ramie fiber is now available."

"What type of fiber is ramie in comparison with cotton, wool and man-made fibers such as rayon, nylon, dacron, orlon, etc?"

"To describe the relative size of fibers the 'Denier' is used. This is a unit of weight up to 1000 grams per 9000 meters, i.e., if 9000 meters of rayon yarn weighs 150 grams its size is 150 denier. Upland cotton is a staple fiber about three deniers in size and 15/16" of inch length up to 1 1/4 inch.

"Ramie is a fiber about 7-8 deniers in size and a staple length up to 20 inches."

Spinning Systems in U.S.
Wool, worsted and cotton system. The first two, wool and worsted will spin long staple fiber, 3-6 inches yet these processes are much more expensive than cotton, therefore, we are working with one of the large Research Divisions of a cotton mill and much progress has been made in producing a satisfactory 100 per cent ramie yarn that will be competitive in cost."

chobee covering the Glades area.

"We will handle both local and out-of-town production," Mr. Walters said, "but we feel that the Glades folks will be glad of any opportunity to serve on their own tables meat from their own pastures after it is properly prepared."

A modern plant will be arranged and a refrigerated working room provided.
